

Wendy delivers training to Kent teachers

We were very pleased to welcome Wendy Adeniji to the school in November to deliver specific Interactive Whiteboard Training for teachers of languages. Wendy is an eminent figure in this field and her training was very well received. As well as enhancing the skills of our own languages teachers, this training was also open to other local teachers, so representatives from our partner secondary school, two of our partner primaries and nine other schools/colleges benefited. Special thanks must go to Ms Williams who put in a lot of time and effort to arrange special funding for the event, which meant that it was free to all those who participated.

Steve Sunderland
Language College Director.